

About Success Quest

Kim Lyddon

MBA, International Trainer, Executive Coach and Keynote Speaker.

Kim Lyddon is the founder and Director of Success Quest Ltd, a company that provides both organisations and individuals with the tools strategies to increase performance achieving personal and professional success. Success Quest specialise in developing innovative training and coaching programmes that develop leadership and customer service capability for organisations within both the public and private sectors.

All the trainers at Success Quest are experienced and professionally trained. Kim and her team have worked for both public and private organisations such as Moto Hospitality Ltd, Cadbury Ltd, Smiths Aerospace, Smiths Group, John Crane International, City of London Police, Borders Group, GirlguidingUK, Metropolitan Police, Desoutter Ltd, Land Securities Group Plc, Guildford Borough Council, Sense Ltd, Macro Ltd, Mace Group Ltd (Dubai and UK), Synergy (Dubai)

Kim has extensive experience working in senior management roles within large organisations heading up their training and development departments. Her work includes responsibilities for the development of training strategies, designing and the delivery of training and coaching programmes across Europe, Middle East, South Africa, Asia and the USA.

Kim's qualifications include an MBA, Diploma and Certificate in Management, Certificate in Training and Development with the Institute of Training and Development and a Diploma Business Performance Coaching. She is also a Certified Trainer of NLP, Master Practitioner and Practitioner of NLP.

Kim's extensive business background and personal development experience enables her to understand the impact of personal and professional development on organisational performance.

Success Quest is committed to provide their clients with the most effective training solution possible therefore pride themselves in firstly, using the latest leading-edge personal development tools and techniques used in the world of business today. Secondly, tailoring training and coaching programmes in a way that aligns fully with the client's culture and achieving the specific outcomes required.

At Success Quest we specialise in developing our programmes to meet your specific needs. Here are some examples of the programmes and workshops we have developed for our clients:

Authentic leadership programme

Delivering customer service excellence

Strategic leadership

Recruiting for success

Coaching for performance

Professional presentation skills

NLP in business training

Communication skills

Mentoring

Team-working

Trainers training

Executive coaching

Negotiation and influence

Assertiveness skills

Secrets of sales success

To find out more about Success Quest go to www.successquest.co.uk